Recent Events for Explorers

It has been a couple of months since our last newsletter. I must apologise for that! Let's call this the Winter Edition (making up for May/June and July). Hard to believe we are half way through the year already! We have some awesome club days planned for the coming months as detailed in this newsletter. Also we have our very first Explorers Family Camp coming up in October as well which is very exciting.

June saw us at long last have a workshop with the very talented Sue Breen. This workshop had been a year in the making and it was awesome to finally pull it to the post. She is an extremely talented lady and gave us some good ideas and tips. Thanks again Sue for giving up your time to come and spend the day with us.

You may or may not be aware that we have been having a bit of a spend up on some new resources for the club. This includes such things as some games and puzzles, giant pickup sticks, a deluxe set of skittles etc. It's nice to have started our collection of resources (which we hope to add to regularly!). Should you have any games or puzzles that your family don't use anymore, don't just list them on TradeMe! Donate them to your friendly Explorers Club!
